2. Categories of Clients who are considered to be Professional clients by default

As per the Law, the following should all be regarded as professional clients in relation to all investment services and activities and financial instruments:

- a) Entities which are required to be authorised or regulated to operate in the financial markets. The list below should be understood as including all authorised entities carrying out the characteristic activities of the entities mentioned: entities authorised by a Member State under the Markets in Financial Instruments Directive, entities authorised or regulated by a Member State without reference to the above Directive, and entities authorised or regulated by a non-Member State:
 - Credit Institutions;
 - Investment Firms;
 - Other Authorised or regulated financial institutions;
 - Insurance Companies;
 - Collective investment schemes and management companies of such schemes;
 - Pension funds and management companies of such funds;
 - Commodity and commodity derivatives dealers;

The entities mentioned above are considered to be professionals, although any professional client has the right to request to be categorised as a “Retail Client” in order to obtain a higher level of protection. It is the responsibility of the client, considered to be a professional client, to ask for a higher level of protection when it deems it is unable to properly assess or manage the risks involved.

This higher level of protection will be provided when a client who is considered to be a professional enters into a written agreement with the Company to the effect that it shall not be treated as professional for the purposes of the applicable conduct of business regime of the Company. Such agreement should specify whether this applies to one or more particular services or transactions, or to one or more types of product transaction.

3. Clients who may be treated as professional clients on request

a) Identification Criteria

A Client who has been categorised as a Retail Client by the Company may request to be treated as a Professional Client, either generally or in respect of a particular investment service or transaction, or type of transaction or product. The Company may, at its discretion, decide not to take into consideration such treatment.

The Company is allowed to treat any of the above clients as professionals, provided the relevant criteria and procedures mentioned below are fulfilled. These clients should not, however, be presumed to possess market knowledge and experience comparable to that of the categories of clients who are considered to be Professional clients by default.

Any waiver of the protection afforded by the standard conduct of business regime shall be considered to be valid only if an adequate assessment of the expertise, experience and knowledge of the Client, undertaken by the Company, gives reasonable assurance, in light of the nature of the transactions or services envisaged, that the Client is capable of making investment decisions and understanding the risks involved. In the course of the above assessment, as a minimum, two of the following criteria should be satisfied:

- the Client has carried out transactions, in significant size, on the relevant market at an average frequency of 10 per quarter over the previous four quarters;
- the size of the Client's financial instrument portfolio, defined as including cash deposits and financial instruments exceeds EUR 500 000;
- the Client works or has worked in the financial sector for at least one year in a professional position, which requires knowledge of the transactions or services envisaged.

b) Procedure

The Clients defined above may waive the benefit of the detailed rules of business conduct only where the following procedure is followed:

- the Company shall give to the Client a clear written warning of the protections and investor compensation rights they may lose.
- they must state in writing, in a separate document from the contract, that the Client is aware of the consequences of losing such protections.

Before deciding to accept any request for waiver, the Company is required to take all reasonable steps to ensure that the client requesting to be treated as a professional client meets the relevant criteria mentioned above.

The Company shall notify the Client if and when it agrees to categorise the Client as a Professional Client.

The protection rights described in the sections of the Law, may include, but not limited to:

- the Company's obligation to provide appropriate information to the Client before providing the Services;
- the restriction on the payment or receipt by the Company of any inducements;
- the Company's obligation to ensure that all information the Company provides to the Client is fair, clear and not misleading;
